Description

We are delighted to offer this gorgeous antique Victorian garnet cabochon and diamond star ring made c.1880. (*Please note the photographed antique ring box is not included and is for display purposes only - if this is of interest, please do contact us for further details). This ring features a substantial garnet cabochon which has a wonderful curvature that not only has an impressive presence upon wearing but allows for the light to shine through. The domed shape and generous proportions allow for a gold star mount at the top which is set with one main old rose-cut diamond surrounded by 6 further diamonds. Such intricate and sensational design truly comes to life upon wearing this ring under natural lighting that reflects in many different tones and the bright sparkle of the diamond contrast and completes its splendid design. The wonderful lustre ranges from a dark maroon to a red depending on the angle of the lighting. In low-light situations such as at late-night events, parties or even candlelight the garnet and diamond create a further unique and contrasted appearance that presents an aura of mystique and unparalleled elegance. The domed shape and generous p...
