Description

This early 20th-century oil painting by Danish artist Poul Friis Nybo (1869-1929) depicts a woman sewing within a candlelit interior. Nybo favoured the quiet moments of domestic introspection that would otherwise pass us by. Candles flicker alongside gilt-framed canvases, family porcelain glints atop mahogany furniture, light fingers focus on nimble handicrafts. It's apparent that he painted those close to him as the same people appear in numerous works. For instance, this particular woman is also the subject of a painting from 1927. It's possibly his wife, the singer Anna (Anita) Maria Christiani. Signed in the lower right and framed. Medium: Oil on canvas Overall size: 20" x 28" / 51cm x 71cm Year of creation: c. 1925 Provenance: Private collection, Denmark. Condition: Artwork presents well. Two patched repairs. Old restorations. Slightly bowed. Frame with some light wear. Artist's auction maximum: £2,800 Poul Friis Nybo was a Danish painter of gentle interior scenes, landscapes and seascapes. His interiors are particularly interesting and capture a snapshot of everyday life. Many of these feature the same woman. He studied at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Copen...
