Description

A Victorian rosewood table with character. This table would look great in a hall. Rosewood top and base. The base is a great shape and I really like the round base of the pedestal above 3 wonderfully carved feet, complete with toenails. Matched veneers on the top. The table is extremely sound and robust but due to natural shrinkage of the pine beneath the rosewood veneers there is some 'rippling'. This cannot easily be seen in the photos. These ripples are discernable if the light catches.
