Description

A very good early 19thc candlestand....it has a pine round top, which has gained a wonderful colour and patination, from years of careful use....it is the colour of fruitwood....I had to look very carefully to make sure it wasn't....!...the nicely turned central column and the shapely legs are made out of oak and the original block, where the table column is joined to the top is made out of elm...so a real "country" made table, which would look very at home in a country cottage or house....in excellent condition. English. C1800-20.
