Description

A desirable example of a French Louis XVI mahogany three drawer commode or chest of drawers, this has cockbeading to the side panels and to the drawer fronts. The tapered legs have brass caps at the base with fluted columns above and the marble top is grey with white veining. A quality piece of 18th century furniture, this has lasted for 250 years and continues to provide a functional and attractive storage solution. Dating circa 1780, this is made of mahogany and marble, and originates from France. In good age related condition. The marble has minor nibbles to the edges, but these are only noticeable by feel and there are no larger chips. The piece has been recently sympathetically restored and previous wear to the side panels is unobtrusive. There is a gap between the planks in the base of the middle drawer, but this does not affect function, particularly if a drawer liner is used. No key is available, but the locks are all in place. Height – 86 cm Width – 128 cm Depth – 60 cm
