Description

An attractive figured walnut Dutch chest with fine marquetry inlay of birds and flowers; most Dutch chests we have had previously have had bombay fronts and often ball and claw feet but I really like this more unusual serpentine shape and top and the splay feet. These chest are thought to be 18th century with 19th century inlay. Oak lined drawers and in fair condition for its age. circa 1780 with the inlay done about 1840
