Description

Antique Regency Ormolu Single Fusee Mantel Clock Timepiece William Hardy London. This stunning antique regency mantel clock has a round stunning red veneer with a beautiful rich colour. The top of the case is then round and houses the movement perfectly. The case then has a shaped support for the round section which has two lovely gilt ormolu mounts. This then leads to the rectangular body of the case which has a further gilt ormolu mount to the front. Finally the case is finished by a moulding to the bottom edge and four beautiful shaped feet. The clock then sits on a lovely marble base which is finished by a further four round brass feet. The dial is then gilt and set out in black Roman numerals. It then has a ring of small dots each marking a minute. The centre of the dial is then beautifully engine turned with a fantastic pattern. Finally the dial is finished by two intricately shaped hands as well as a beautifully shaped bezel. The movement is then wound from the front and accessed from the back. It is a single fusee example of the upmost quality and is working perfectly. The movement also comes complete with its regulating pendulum and winding key. The move...
