Description

This is a small antique pharmacist's measuring cup. An English, glass and leather apothecary measure, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Charmingly petite measuring cup, with display appeal. Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good original order. Hand-etched glass with measuring markers in millilitres, presenting a bright appearance. Protected within a lightly time worn leather case with a distinctive green and purple interior. Case lid reads 'Minim Measure' in gold tooling. This is a fascinating antique pharmacist's measuring cup, with charming hand-etched measures to the glass form. In good original order and nicely presented, delivered ready to display.
