Description

A late Victorian or early Edwardian portrait of a rather intense young Gentleman. The features of the face and eyes well executed the remainder rather abstract. The medium is difficult to ascertain but it appears to be oil on canvas paper on a continental style inner frame mounted within an ornate gilt frame. The frame is in generally good condition with all the molding intact. There is a small repair to the inner gilt slip in the bottom left hand corner. The unsigned painting itself has some scratches and scuffs and has some charm due to the subjects expression. Frame dimensions are 61 cm wide by 70 high the exposed image being 38.5 cm by 48.5 cm
