Description

Very pleasing example of a late 18thc ash and elm child's high chair....it has an elm seat and the rest of the chair is made from ash....the arm supports and the back legs are shaped, which is always an attractive feature...and help to date this chair....it has the original stained finish and where the stain has worn away it has gained a very nice patina....in excellent stable condition. English. C1770-90.
