Description

Large 19th century mahogany breakfront wardrobe circa 1830 . The wardrobe is in great condition with a good grain and wonderful antique patina . it is constructed of solid mahogany and oak through out . The centre section has 5 large slide out oak lined trays with two small over 2 large oak. lined drawers below . Both the trays and drawers are all solid in joint and slide nice and smooth as they should . The tray can be removed to provide additional hanging space if required . The left side end section is fitted with shelves ,again these can be removed to provide hanging space The right side is currently fitted with an old hanging rail and hooks .New rails can be be fitted upon request and included with in the price . both end sections have an internal depth of 17 inches giving ample depth for modern hangers The wardrobe dismantles into 4 main sections plus the cornices and base for transport and re assembly is very simple . We can arrange a two man delivery service through out the UK please enquire for our competitive prices .
