Description

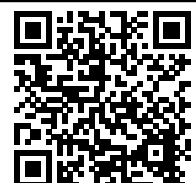

This is a large antique refectory table. A Scottish, oak 6-8 seat dining table with Gothic taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1890. Superbly figured and comfortably sized centrepiece table for six to eight. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good original order. Select oak with a bounty of grain interest and an abundance of medullary rays. Graced with deep caramel hues to the top, apron and frame. Comfortably seat 6 to 8 diners with a knee-hole height of 63cm (24.75"). Four plank top with cleated ends and deftly chamfered corners. Delightful carved decor to the apron, with bold turned and gadrooned knees. Raised upon a quartet of turned legs with square feet, united by stretcher rails. This is a generously sized antique refectory table, offering high visual appeal and useful proportion. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
