Description

Here we have a fascinating heavy-duty metal and brass Telescope. It's specially made as a gun sighting telescope used by warships to visually site anti-aircraft, and enemy ships. It's made in Canada by Kodak co Limited, and likely to have been used by the US army – serial number 3765. The lens detection is 7x50 with alternating lens filters. It's mid-century and made between 1940-50. A cool conversation starter and a great item for any World War memorabilia collectors. Materials: Brass, metal and chrome Age: 1940-50 Dimensions: H: 114cm W: 58cm
