Description

A lovely revolving oak bookcase dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It is a good quality piece made from mahogany and it has three levels with nicely shaped galleries. It revolves freely and stands on castors. It has a lovely patina and the whole piece is in very good condition with no major damages. There are signs of age and use, some minor knocks and marks on the top but nothing detrimental or untoward. A couple of internal dividers have been replaced but it still displays well and is a very usable piece. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
