Description

A 19th Century French Mahogany Guéridon with Fine Quality Moulded Black Marble Top. The table with four supports leading to a central platform stretcher. There is carved detailing at the point where each support/leg meets the frieze and also where they meet the stretcher. The stretcher stands on four carved toes in the Empire style. This style of table provides plenty of display space and has an interesting sculptural feel to it. Having a black marble top which is particularly dense and consistent in colour and has a finely moulded edge. A wonderful shapely table, one of the nicest we have acquired.
