Description

Technical Description A stunning set of six Art Nouveau hock glasses dating to c1900. They have gilded rims above round funnel bowls which fade from lime green to clear and have a field of tiny precise diamonds at the base. Long hollow slice cut inverted baluster stems above conical feet. A real quality set almost certainly from the Josephinenhutte glassworks which was founded by Franz Pohl in 1842 and went on to produce outstanding Venetian inspired designs over a 100 years period. Date & Origin Silesia, c1900. Condition Excellent, No chips, cracks or restoration. Minor wear to the gilding. Dimensions Height: 18.3cm Rim diameter: 6cm Foot diameter: 6.7cm
