Description

Vintage Gentlemans Leather Fitted Suitcase . Suitcase stand not included but may be available upon request A high quality and unusual antique leather suitcase. We are delighted to be able to offer to you this excellent original condition late Victorian C1880-1900 solid leather Gentleman's travel suitcase. We believe that this case was made by the maker Finnegans of bond street London from the construction and quality, however, there is no makers name present. The suitcase has the words 'C. ANTROBUS' hot stamped into the top which is the name of the original owner which this suitcase was made for. We believe that this suitcase could have been made for Cecil Hugh Antrobus or Charles Alexander Antrobus. Both of these men were Captains in the first world war and were killed in action in 1915 as per the Brass memorial plaque in Eaton, Cheshire. High commanding officers in the military would have had a few suitcases, this one would have likely been for toiletries, cleaning and writing home to loved ones. Inside this rare suitcase is fully lined in green polished calfskin leather and is fully fitted inside for holding various items. The lower holster can be removed and is m...
