Description

A lovely Victorian dining or centre table which dates from around 1860. Sittings on four legs with original castors leading to a centre support pedestal which is decorated in nice carving all round. With a quarter veneer top this table is in good all round condition considering its age with only slight blemishes or scratches to top which are only visible on very close inspection. Table is ready to be used as a dining table or centre table. Please ask if any more pictures are required.
