Description

Exemplifying the grace and sophistication of early 20th-century craftsmanship, this exquisite dressing table stands as a testament to fine design and attention to detail. Crafted from rich figured walnut, the table's kidney-shaped silhouette exudes timeless elegance, blending seamlessly with both traditional and contemporary interior styles. At the heart of this piece is its captivating mirror arrangement. A central swing mirror takes prominence, flanked by two beveled oval mirrors mounted on circular revolving platforms. These mirrors, set upon intricately carved foliate supports, offer a symphony of reflections and angles, allowing for optimal viewing and adjustment. The practicality of the dressing table is matched by its aesthetic allure. Three drawers, discreetly nestled beneath the central mirror, provide ample storage for personal grooming essentials, each smoothly sliding open to reveal a luxuriously lined interior. Elevating the table are regal cabriole supports, their sinuous curves terminating in ornate gilt scallop shells, a nod to the opulence of the era. These legs not only lend stability but also exude a sense of refined sophistication, elevating the ent...
