Description

Manufactured in 1900 this handpainted porcelain vase has the signature exceptionally tapered neck of the Royal Bonn factory. Given the delicate nature of the neck, to find this style of vase in this condition is rare. It is in superb "restoration free" condition. Hopefully the photographs say more than text can! It has a Ombré colour effect on the body of the vase, the hand painted daisies are still bright in colour and the mouth and foot of the Vase are still superbly gilded, showing no signs of wear. Clear backstamp authenticating age and origin, and artists signature combine to make this a super example of factory whose life only spanned 30 years from 1890-1920
