Description

This is a superb French, Charles X mahogany commode chest, in splendid condition with a wonderful rich colour, dating from around 1830. The substantial chest has beautiful decorative gilt bronze handles and escutcheons which have wonderful detail. The chest has a secret upper frieze drawer integral to the curved design with three substantial drawers beneath with ornate metalware. All drawers run freely in the cabinet and give a substantial storage capacity. The flame mahogany is excellent throughout with a fabulous decorative grain and lovely rich colour and patina and the figured marble top is in beautiful clean condition. A most handsome early French piece of the best quality. We also have another very similar example currently listed that make's for a very near pair of superb chests should you require two. (shown in the last photo.) This listing is for one chest only. This chest measures 128 cms wide 58 cms deep by 90 cms high. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £65 plus vat to most destinations.
