Description

This early 20th-century portrait study depicts a young woman turned two-thirds in repose. She wears a black top. It's a rather striking academic work but the artist remains a mystery. It's interesting to see the change of direction with adjustments made on the left, presumably altering the head and neck size. Signed/dated 'Lee 1932' in the lower right and held in a frame from the period, which is probably original. Medium: Oil on canvas Overall size: 16" x 18½" / 41cm x 47cm Year of creation: 1932 Labels & Inscriptions: Academic canvas stamp on reverse. Provenance: Private collection, England. Condition: Assessed and approved by our conservator. Cleaned. Frame restored. Patch on reverse. Our reference: BRV1710
