Description

A very pretty Victorian square trinket dish with a central heart motif. The dish is ornately patterned in a repoussé style, the silver being pressed in to form a raised pattern, inside and out. Floral motifs, leaves and swags surround a central smooth heart with a beaded edge. The square edges of the dish are crimped, and this detail really catches the light. A super pin dish which would look wonderful on a dressing table, and could make a lovely romantic gift. In lovely antique condition. Hallmarked in Sheffield with date marks for 1889 and makers marks for Atkin Brothers. Measurements: Length and width: 6.9 cm Depth 1.3 cm Weight 27 grams All weights and measurements are approximate.
