Description

Set of 8 Regency rosewood dining chairs This set of 8 Regency rosewood dining chairs were made circa 1820. The chairs have curved bar backs and sabre legs. Sabre legs were fashionable in this period in celebration of Britain's victory at the Battle of Trafalgar. The sabre legs on this set are particularly sophisticated as they are not just sabre shaped but have the extra refinement of fine carving to the blocks at the top of the legs as well as the scroll toes and a leaf carving above. The pierced central splats of the back of the chairs have scrolls and acanthus leaves. The chairs have drop in seats with a striped material. This set of 8 Regency rosewood dining chairs are very elegant and make a fine addition to your home's interior and dining room. The curved bar backs make this style/type of chair very comfortable as they mould into your back. Imagine sitting at these and dining with your family and friends, they will add to the enjoyment of your company. 46cms top rail width 18ins 46cms front seat width 18ins 46cms depth 18ins 46cms seat height 18ins All measurements are approximate.
