Description

A large antique early 19th Century South Wales oak dresser. The top has moulded cornice above an open rack back of three fitted shelves, each with an arrangement of small iron hooks. This sits above a base composed of three. Each drawer has two wooden knobs and brass escutcheons. It is raised on turned front legs and straight rear legs with shaped apron to the front. The under-tier pot board shelf serves as a support, also it has three raised panels. Item Ref; M-5192 . DIMENSIONS: Height - 213cm / Width - 161cm / Depth - 44cm / Surface Height - 76cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places including age-related marks to the surface top, shelves and front. There are stains to the shelves (pictured) and some loss to one of the wooden knobs (pictured), however, this does not affect the overall integrity of the oak dresser. The oak dresser should be fixed to a wall for extra support due to its size. Overall a great example of an antique early 19th Century South Wales oak dresser. Our experienced carpenter meticulously inspects, repairs, and restores each item in our collection. This ensures that every ...
