Description

This is an impressive little table from South West France. In Walnut and other woods, all the timbers are in place and the inlays are complete. The lovely little gallery is all there as are the mountings on the legs. An item that has clearly not be abused in the the last 100years or so. Colour is good with no obvious light fade and the French polish is good, certainly better than might expect for its age. A useful occasional table that could fit into most surroundings. Dont hesitate to give us a call to diiscuss.
