Description

A good example of an antique milk glass ceiling light dating from the early 20th Century. The milk glass shade is excellent quality and made from thick heavy glass with an attractive shape and it has its original patinated metal gallery. The light is in good condition with no major damages. It has been cleaned and rewired to modern standards with a braided cable and a standard bayonet bulb holder. We would always recommend that the light is checked and installed by a professional electrician. Approximate Measurements : Height : 7 1/2" / 19cm (including gallery) Width : 7" / 18cm The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
