Description

Antique Victorian Ladder Back Rocking chair . An original Rocking chair with a beautifully worn patina. We bring to you this charming example of a Victorian 19th century ladder back rocking chair in lovely original condition made from Fruitwood and Birch. This rocking chair of moderate proportions features its original nicely time-worn dark French polished finish with lots of patina and character and has not been stripped like many others have. This comfortable chair is ideal as a fireside chair in any period themed property. The chair has a nicely shaped and curved back ladder back with curved endings to the back rails descending to curved arms on turned risers and a sculpted seat. The chair sits on typically Victorian turned legs with stretchers which finishes to long curved rocker rails. The chair is in strong condition with no joint movement or breaks and has been thoroughly checked over in our workshop. We have cleaned and waxed this chair to protect and preserve the finish making this item completely ready for its new home. Please note; This item is in fantastic condition for its age as shown by the photographs below. Being an antique item of this age there are ob...
