Description

A superb antique 18ct gold buckle ring dating for 1912. An attractive tapered design on a substantial shank makes this desirable ring a great find for your collection. Popular since Georgian times and this style of ring became very fashionable when Queen Victoria wore one to represent the Order of the Garter. The buckle itself symbolises love and strength in a relationship. A part of our antique gold ring collection. SIZE UK U / US 10 ¼ SPECIFICATION Width. 4.5 – 11mm Weight. 6.7 grams 18k gold STAMPS & HALLMARKS 18 Birmingham M (1911-1912) CONDITION Very Good - Excellent – Aside from minor wear to the engravings and a partly worn hallmark this antique 18ct gold buckle ring remains in outstanding order. The ring is sturdy and retains a lovely sheen finish.
