Description

Interesting 17th century or earlier Indo-Persian wood carving, c1600. A single figure has been carved in relief on a solid block of wood and it has a lovely primitive appearance. The wood has great colour and signs of wear you would expect from a piece of this substantial age. It would display well as a standalone piece or as part of a collection of carvings/artefacts. Please refer to the detailed photographs and feel free to contact me if you would like to view the item or have any questions. Price includes FREE UK delivery. Please contact me regarding international shipping. Size: 30cm tall x 8cm wide x 4cm deep, weight 0.6kg.
