Description

Step back in time and experience the allure of 19th-century France with this stunning complete French double bed, meticulously crafted from exquisite rosewood. Dating back to 1870, this bed epitomises the elegance and sophistication of its era, offering a captivating centrepiece for any bedroom. Elevating the aesthetic appeal are the bed's graceful cabriole legs, lending a sense of refinement and grace to its design. Adorned with gorgeous carvings and intricate decorations throughout, every inch of this bed exudes opulence and attention to detail, showcasing the mastery of its craftsmen. Included with the bed is a base and mattress, providing both support and comfort for restful nights of sleep. While the mattress is in excellent condition, having been used, we offer the option to dispose of it free of charge, ensuring that your preferences are catered to. Designed for practicality as well as beauty, this bed can be easily disassembled into multiple sections, facilitating hassle-free transportation and installation. Whether moving house or simply rearranging your space, this bed offers versatility and convenience. Despite its age, this bed remains in good condition, with ...
