Description

Picture a charming antique side table from the 18th century, a piece that exudes timeless elegance and understated beauty. Crafted from durable oak, this side table stands as a testament to the enduring craftsmanship of its era. The table's tapered legs lend it a sense of grace and sophistication, adding to its overall aesthetic appeal. As you run your hand along the smooth surface, you can feel the quality of the oak beneath your fingertips, its attractive grain and rich coloration adding warmth to the room. Adorning the front of the table is a singular drawer, providing convenient storage for small items or keepsakes. While the original handles may have been replaced over time, the replacement brass handles add a touch of character and charm to the piece, complementing its traditional design. Despite its age, this side table remains in good condition, a testament to its sturdy construction and careful maintenance over the years. Whether placed in a living room, hallway, or bedroom, it serves both functional and decorative purposes, adding a touch of vintage charm to any space. With its attractive grain, warm colour, and classic design, this antique side table is sure to...
