Description

This is a great designed early 20th century Spanish writing table. Made from solid walnut with a single slab top with an incredible patina. The carved drawer fronts give this a great decorative appeal as well as practicality as a writing or vanity table. The iron drawers pulls are all original as well. The back has the same configuration but faux drawers. The iron stretcher is an iconic element to these Catalan tables and this one is particularly nice. Condition overall is very good with a few minor scratches to the top but nothing that takes a way from the piece.
