Description

A Victorian sterling silver chain in the form of a bracelet and two fourpenny groat coins as charms. The bracelet has a lovely aged patina and alternate links are chased on one side. The coins are dated 1836 and likely 1840, though the digit after the four is too worn to read clearly. Overall the bracelet is in good antique condition with normal surface wear for its age. One of the plain round links is a little squashed; please look closely at the photographs to see full condition. Size: Approximately 8 inches (20cm) long x 1.1cm wide. The coins measure 1.7cm across. Weight: 16.8g. FREE INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING!
