Description

An attractive French BRONZE SCULPTURE of a pair of hunting hounds both actively on the scent. The hounds themselves retain their original gilding, whilst the base is patinated bronze ~ a combination that works remarkably well. Fully signed to the integral base, with foundry stamps to the back. 6ins (15cms) long. c1870-1880 Alfred DUBUCAND (1828-1894) was a noted French sculptor who specialised in small-scale works of the 'animalier' movement. He studied under the "master" Antoine-Louis Barye, and became highly successful ~ his work being popular and often exhibited at the Salon in Paris.
