Description

Victorian mahogany chiffonier This Victorian mahogany chiffonier was made circa 1870. It is of the high-quality grade and of a size that is slightly deeper than the usual design and so gives even greater storage, it is a wonderful warm colour. The Victorian mahogany chiffonier has one long drawer under the top. Under the drawer is a double cupboard that opens to reveal shelves and a large storage area. The 2 flame mahogany doors with the very attractive arched panels, to each side of the doors are beautifully carved corbels at the top and a smaller example at the plinth. This is a very versatile item of quality Victorian furniture that can be used in plenty of settings in your home. This has been well loved all its life and we only had to give it a light wax and sympathetic light restoration. Imagine how much crockery, glassware, bottles etc. this chiffonier will eat up and become a most valuable addition to your home.
