Description

This is an antique Art Nouveau ink well. A French, pewter decorative pen tray, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Wonderful example from the appealing Art Nouveau period. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Pewter tray presents a fine decorative form. Quality glass ink well with pewter lid and triangular faceted finish. Ink well sits neatly within a circular mount, adorned with a ruffled leaf motif. Scallop shell detail to each end, the prominent left hand side with further scroll detail. Maker's name inscribed to the left for A. Bossu - a prolific craftsman of ink wells in the period. Standing upon quartet of shaped and nicely detailed short legs. This is a striking antique Art Nouveau ink well, with an appealing decorative appearance and cool, tactile pewter form. Delivered ready for the desktop.
