Description

Early 20th Century Hand Carved English Fairground Carousel Panel A rare piece of traditional English fairground art attributed to Orton and Spooner. All carved from sections piece of pine wood with diamond mirror centre. This example would have likely been part of a large fairground ride at one time. With all its aged, layered paint still present. Showing natural wear and tear this example would look brilliant hung over a doorway entrance.

Dimensions in inches: H 72" x W 19" x D 2" Age: 1910 - 1920 Origin: England Condition: Aged This item shows natural wear and aging through obvious use over the years. It is missing some detail to the top left-hand corner (due to wood damp) as shown in the photos provided. This damage to this corner has long been treated (for wood worm) and is firmly in place now. The mirror has a split down the middle as shown also but has no movement and firm in place. With missing sections of carvings and paint as one might expect, this rare example is in one solid piece. Layers of painted sections have faded and come loose over time but are firmly secure also. The item is over 100 years old, so please expect this to be reflected in its condition, ...
