Description

A late Victorian or early Edwardian novelty figural inkwell of a cat poking his head out of a worn boot or shoe. A particularly well executed example with a super warm patina and sporting his original glass eyes. From the Black Forest region of Switzerland, these fancy wooden goods were made as souvenirs for the wealthy to buy on their Grand Tour as a memory of their visit. The Victorians took pride in displaying their collections from around the world; today they are just as sought-after and highly prized. Excellent condition, measuring 7" long x 4 1/2" tall to top of ear. Item ID: 32933 ———— FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
