Description

A super stylish V shaped silver torque collarette necklace by renowned Norwegian silversmith David Andersen. Styled from a single piece of silver with some flexibility, the necklace is open ended and fits around the neck to rest neatly on the collarbone. The pointed tip of the torque is rounded and curved downwards to better hug the neck. The silver gradually flattens towards the back of the neck with a very subtle scalloped effect that reflects the light. A wonderfully wearable - and highly collectible - piece of mid century modern silver jewellery. In super pre-owned condition. Marked D A Norway Sterling 925S Period: Circa 1960's. Measurements: circumference: c.14 1/2" (36 cm) Length front to back 5 1/4" (13 cm) Total weight: 12 grams. All weights and measurements are approximate.
