Description

Lovely Original oil painting of Venice by the renowned Italian artist Emanuele Cappello. Painted in the abstract expressionist style, with vibrant wonderful colours, Cappello really captures the energy and colour of Venice. Biography Emanuele Cappello was born in 1936 and was primarily inspired creatively by the 1950s growing up. Abstract Expressionism, a form of painting that studied notions of spirituality and the sublime, dominated the 1950s. A number of artists focused on the formal properties of painting, and action painting took inspiration from the political freedom of the United States, as opposed to the strict nature of the Soviet bloc. Jackson Pollock, Willem de Kooning, Mark Rothko, Frank Kline, Barnett Newman, Clyfford Still and Adolph Gottlieb were predominant artists of this period. The male-dominated environment has been subsequently revised to recognise the contributions of female artists such as Lee Krasner, Joan Mitchell, and Louise Bourgeois, amongst others.
