Description

Spectacular pair of large antique quality orientalist polychromed plaster Arabesque or Moorish figures depicting two males in traditional moorish robes and headdress with artfully shaped hands. These amazing plaster figures with a polychromed surface are very eye-catching and were made with great attention to detail which is very evident in their faces and throughout the entirety of these figures. They were produced as merchandising products for tobacconists in Austria during the early 20th century. The craftsmanship and design of these figures is breathtaking making them fabulous decorative pieces. H 100.3cm W 39.3cm D 29.2cm Date 1900
