Description

Françoise LANDOWSKI (1917-2007) "Pierrot" Claude Debussy An ethereal painting of a pierrot with the image repeated until it fades away across the canvas. The pierrot is also shown in juxtaposition crossing in the opposite direction. Francoise merged her two artistic expressions of art and music in the 1970s by creating concert exhibitions where she played works by composers who had inspired paintings. The paintings were exhibited and projected during concerts – notably Debussy, Ravel and Mussorgsky. This work was probably inspired by Claude Debussy's song "Pierrot" Biography Born in Boulogne-Billancourt, Landowski-Caillet was the daughter of the sculptor Paul Landowski. She had many illustrious artistically talented relatives including the painter Nadine Landowski. She was a pupil of Marguerite Long and pursued a career as an international virtuoso pianist after the war and until the 1970s. She then became a piano teacher at the Conservatoire de Saint-Denis while beginning a second career as a painter. Condition Excellent. Size 49cm x 64cm (60cm 75cm framed) 19 x 25 inches (24 x 30 inches framed)
