This is a fine quality antique Victorian Persian runner, measuring 14½ foot long, believed to be of North West Kurdish / Persian origin, displaying rich vibrant colours and a bold design, circa 1890, in good original condition. The hand-dyed wool, made by tribesmen, displays three borders, geometric in design, interspersed with flowers. The Victorian Persian runner has been constructed on a woven loom and is hand knotted, with a deep and tightly knotted pile, which makes it suitable for heavy traffic areas, such as a hallway or long room. The Victorian Persian runner boasts incredible detail, displaying rich natural vibrant colours.
