Description

A fantastic tabletop collectors cabinet dating from the early 20th Century. It is a good quality piece made from pitch pine with turned wooden knobs. Chests such as this were used for storing all sorts of things - collectors would use them to store samples in, whether that be rocks, butterflies, eggs or coins etc. This particular chest has six drawers, graduating in depth from top to bottom. There is a small meshed air vent in the back. Overall it is in good original condition and has developed a lovely aged patina. There are signs of age and use and the cabinet has picked up some knocks and scuffs and signs of wear over the years but the drawers are clean and all open smoothly and it displays very well. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK Delivery £15
