Description

This most unusual hand blown glass five mast sailing ship is a work of art. It is an exceptional piece made with great skill fine detail and large scale. It is a truly remarkable piece and we have not seen anything similar before. It is difficult to understand how it was possibly produced inside a circular glass bottle with a narrow-shaped neck sealed with a cork and paper cap. The bottle is displayed on a black ebonised wooden stand. Circa 1960 Height 17cm x width 34cm x depth 14cm
