Description

This enchanting painting of a fisher girl is by the Spanish painter Manuel Azpiroz (1903 - 1953). It has been painted in oil on canvas and is still housed within its original decorative frame. Now, after some sensitive restoration and cleaning, Manuel's chosen palette can once again be seen in all its subtle shades. He was a portrait painter with a distinctive style and the Fisher Girl is a lovely example of his work. A charming subject. The measurements below are for the frame, however, the stretchered canvas measures 50.5 cm x 40.5 cm.
