Technical Description Two Scottish pottery storage barrel jars dating to c1890. They are beautifully glazed in mottled greens, blues, and browns. Both have their original lids with ribbing to the top and bottom of the barrels. One has RICE and one has SUGAR. No marks on the base, however with help from the Scottish Pottery Society, we believe they were made by Seaton Pottery in Aberdeen in the late 19th century. They are in truly superb condition with no damage, which is very unusual for kitchen ware from this period. Date & Origin Scotland, c1890 Condition Excellent, age-related wear as shown.
