Description

Stunning quality regency period crossbanded rosewood dropleaf sofa table. The highly decorative top is supported by two cushioned drawers with brass pulls and the drop ends are supported with carved detail lopers when the table is fully open. The reverse side has two dummy drawers with the same brass pulls. The sabre legs are joined by a stretcher and terminate in very decorative brass finials on to brass wheels. Generally in superb condition, just showing expected wear for a piece of this age.
