Description

A pair of antique Turkmen tekke handwoven chuvals , approximately 5'8" x 3'10", dating from the late c.19th. These chuvals have a red field with three columns of three guls, enclosed by repeating red coloured borders. The handwoven woollen pile is supple, soft and silky. These are complete chuvals not just the faces. As such they have both sides of the bag and can be used as a bag. These chuvals are made as one piece, folded over then the sides stitched together. The back sides are plain. A charming pair of old chuvals. Still complete as bags. Dimensions: These chuvals measures approximately 91 cm by 154.5, and 89.5 cm by 161 cm. Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - These chuvals are both is in a reasonable condition, commensurate with their age. There are some marks and blemishes, a little wear to the pile. The side stitching, where the front face and back are joined, is coming apart on one side of each chuval. One chuval is slightly more faded than the other. They have been vacuumed, deodorised, and treated for moth prevention. - As with all vintage & antique furniture there will be signs of use, marks, wear & tear, etc.
